

University of Mississippi

eGrove

Clippings

James W. Silver Collection

December 2018

When, When, Oh When?

Author Unknown

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/jws_clip

Recommended Citation

Unknown, Author, "When, When, Oh When?" (2018). Clippings. 337.
https://egrove.olemiss.edu/jws_clip/337

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the James W. Silver Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Clippings by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

When, When, Oh When?

Under the heading "WHEN?" the Greensboro Record of Greensboro, North Carolina, has this to say on its editorial page:

WHEN?

The headlines from the University of Mississippi these days are over the expulsion of the only Negro student because he carried a concealed pistol to class, apparently because he feared attack.

A smaller story didn't make the front pages. It announced that four dormitories are being closed because of a drop in enrollment. The news from other colleges and universities is of crowded facilities and the opening of new dormitories.

How many empty dormitories will it take to persuade the powers that be in Mississippi of the need for order and sanity in the administration of academic—and other—affairs?

We have just checked with the Mississippi State College Board and here is the story:

The board says a new girls dormitory holding 250 girls will be opened within two to three weeks. All rooms rented.

Only dormitory closed down is small boys dormitory holding 30 persons. It is being remodeled having been built in 1920's, and will be reopened when renovation is completed.

The board in Jackson says it hasn't received registration figures for the year from Oxford but expects enrollment to be about the same as last year.

That's the story from the State College Board.

We ask when will the Greensboro Record start printing the facts about Ole Miss, about Mississippi and the rest of the hated South, of which it has obviously abandoned in the face of brainwashing from a biased and lying Eastern press, apparent source of its falsehoods.

We ask "WHEN?"